

I strongly urge that you keep this proposition from happening. There is already enough filth surrounding our youth, such as the internet and music on the radio. Children are being exposed to adult material at earlier and earlier ages. Their young, undeveloped minds are forever changed by the destructive nature of pornography and they don't need to have the extra temptation of viewing this along side Elmo, and Barney. Parents do not want to have these destructive shows to enter their home.