

I've become increasingly dismayed at the sexual innuendo and filthy topics discussed on prime time television. Please do not allow cursing or nudity. I will immediately turn the signal off if TV gets worse. We already canceled our cable contract. I have kids aged 3, 5, and 7. They already ask questions about graphic violence on TV if they happen to see it on accident if a station is left on past the show we allow them to watch. They love to repeat words like "butt", "jackass", and several other words that are already allowed. Please continue to limit what filth is on TV. I would highly suggest further limiting violence, bad language, sexual innuendo and other "adult" aspects during prime time viewing. I think the violence you allow currently in prime time makes you just as responsible for situations like Sandy Hook as any gun law.
