

This possible decision of the use of certain words and frontal nudity is shameful and unacceptable. Do you have children and would you want them to hear and see this? If you decide to do this, at what point do you think anything is okay? If anything, the word G-D should not be misused as well as the other words I have heard on shows (which I no longer watch.) You need to back off the acceptance of vulgar language and nudity and copulating which is constantly shoved in our faces by the television shows/stations.
