

Please do not lift the current ban on extreme expletives and nudity. If people want to put those things in movies, or music, or other kinds of media that you must actively purchase and partake of, that is fine, but we must not allow such "mature" content to be aired publicly, where a younger person will likely stumble upon it. I am especially concerned about the nudity. You could very well be responsible for beginning a person's life-long, and life-destroying, addiction to pornography by exposing them to sexual content at a young age. I believe that you would be held at least somewhat accountable before God for such a thing.
