

I don't think the current mandates concerning profanity and nudity on network television should be relaxed. If anything, they should be made more stringent. I have avoided having pay television for years because I don't want myself, wife or children seeing nudity and profanity on television. Network television is the last place I have to go for current entertainment. Please do not relax the existing regulations.