

I absolutely do not want the standards on TV to be lowered. There should not be nudity in any form, male or female. There should not be any swearing, in any language. It is already too hard to find decent programming that younger children can watch without having to explain the words or cover their eyes. I don't even like to watch shows with strong language and explicit love scenes where a "peek" at flesh may happen. It is inappropriate on TV and should not be allowed.
