

I would recommend the FCC not relaxing the rules for decency on the television, etc. The thought that young children especially would have access to these programs on regular TV would make no medium safe from nudity, profanity, etc. I don't subscribe to cable movie channels that carry this type of material because of this nor do I want to see it. Please don't allow this through.