

I absolutely do not agree with the FCC allowing the f-word, nudity or any other additional lude ness on television, radio, etc. There is already too much portrayed on television, especially for children to see. Why should my 6 and 3 year old be exposed to this type of language by innocently flipping through the channels of the tv or radio? There is no reason for this. If people want to hear or see this type of matter, they are free to watch any number of movies or music which is full of that garbage. Thank you for your consideration.

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.
