

Standards are already to loose. It is highly possible for the satellite companies and cable to loose a ton of customers if this goes through. It won't even be worth keeping. Use your brains and think about what you are doing.