

We need to do everything we can to protect the morality for our young generation. What reason does the FCC have in lowering the standards on tv? If people want to watch and here that crap, then they can get it in rated R movies.

Justin Benson