

The FCC has a responsibility to maintain decency in the media. To allow more vulgar language and nudity so as to reduce the need for greater enforcement is absurd. It is the same principle as to eliminate the enforcement of drug laws so as to reduce crime statistics. Folks! let's use a little common sense