I strongly support the proposed alteration of existing, very immoral, "morality" standards.

The current ban on one word swears and frontal none-sexual nudity doesn't serve the public interest. There has never been a scientific link drawn between negative behavior and the looking at swearing, and none sexual nudity on tv, all the current ban accomplishes is to reduce free speech, and push the morality of a vocal few, on the majority.

This is to say nothing, of the fact that it is the parents responsibility to ensure their children watch material that is appropriate for them, not the state, further, the notion that children do not already hear swear words, or, in the internet age, seen nudity, is absurd.
