

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards that would allow television and radio stations to broadcast expletives and nudity on the public airwaves, even if brief or "fleeting."

The Supreme Court has confirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies regarding expletives and nudity, especially during times when children are likely to be watching or listening.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.

I encourage them to a return to virtue in the programs and broadcast policies they choose, and in decency. The public airwaves should be a place where all can watch, both children and adults and be edified. Where women are respected and children are protected!

Respectfully,
Robin Estabrooks
