

On behalf of my family, please do not make changes to the current FCC Indecency Standards. I find it difficult enough as it is to watch free, over-the-air television with the current standards..changing them to more lenient would make it virtually unwatchable. Our children should be able to view television free of offensive language and nudity, as well as myself. It would seem that there are few interested in protecting our families from this kind of programming. Please leave us some dignity and choice.
