

The old saying of "Give them an inch and they'll take a mile" will happen here. How long before they ask for just a little bit more nudity and offensive language? Hold by the standards that have proven themselves over the years, don't lower yourselves to cable standards. Take a stand. I turn the channel when all I hear is beep, beep, beep. The beeps do nothing to hide what they are saying and is just as annoying to me. Enough is enough. Just say NO!
