

I'm concerned about the proposed changes to the decency standard and hope you will consider that many families like mine choose not to have cable so we can limit what our children see on TV. Even though we primarily watch PBS, "flipping channels" exposes them already to crass humor and profanity. Please work to improve the quality of broadcast television by upholding stricter decency regulations.