

I am writing in protest to the unacceptable idea of sinking even lower in televised viewing in America by allowing 'frontal nudity' and the most vulgar slang language used today, to contaminate our airwaves and harm our culture, degrade our society and discourage uplifting thoughts and actions.

To those considering such a decision affecting so many we hope that thoughtful review may prevent inevitable damage to the medium and to the innocent viewers of television programming.