

I hope that we still have enough intelligent people left that are will to fight for the children. We don't need to change the decency standards by the FCC to allow nudity and swear words for our children to see and hear. Please consider this very hard before making any foolish changes. If people want this filth the can pay for it via the cable channels.