

Relaxing decency standards will not improve American society. Quite the contrary. Please do not do so.