

My family, and basically everyone I know, is totally AGAINST allowing more adult content (language, nudity, etc) on broadcast TV. Whatever happened to common decency, for crying out loud?