

I feel that it is totally unnecessary to have fbombs and nudity or any type of indecent exposure in prime time tv. Our children are so precious and they are already exposed to so much on tv already that i consider inappropriate for children that we don't need this too. Yes I may be able to control what my child watches but not every parent does so. This is what is wrong with this world. Not enough parents caring or taking action. So please take all of these thoughts into consideration and don't allow this to happen. Thank you
