

Loosening the standards of decency is not in our best interests. People wonder why society is so degenerate. It's because the media absolutely glorifies profanity and illicit sexuality.

Do not relax your standards. They are too lax already.