

I stopped watching television years ago because of the garbage that is broadcast. To allow profanity and blatant sexual phrases on television programs only makes a bad situation worse. The anti intellectualism that this represents only underlines the fact that any society that descends from a moral peak into the trough of intellectual decadence soon dissolves into a quagmire of ignorance and societal decay. Rotten to the core, that nation that allows this will not survive.