

Relaxing the standards of television is not a desirable thing. Civilizations that relaxed their standards of morality were soon destroyed. We don't need more salacious language nor do we need to display frontal nudity. Such things have no redeeming value and are not desired by thoughtful people. Nudity promotes over time promotes more attacks against women. Such a course to cause this to happen is deployable.