

Should deregulate cable companies. The FCC appears to be in business with big companies instead of protecting the rights of consumers.