

Please allow our children to stay young longer without so much filth. The world is already dark enough.
Please respect those of us that don't talk and behave like this.