

The world is in a bad enough shape for this to happen. We have children and grandchildren to raise and languages like you propose is offensive to most people. Those words mean nothing to get the point across. It is a sad realization when one has to stoop that low to get attention. Please see that more offensive language is kept off the airways. Thank you.