

I STRONGLY urge you not to change the standards of broadcasting now in place. It would be more detrimental to our society if strong language and nudity were allowed where young children could have access more easily.