

The morale values in our country have decayed enough. Do not change the current standards on what can be shown and said on tv.