

As a society, we are already bombarded by too many sexual images and cursing. Our children should not be subjected to even lower standards. Quite frankly, I do not wish to be subjected to these lower standards either. I find it bothersome that these days we can very rarely find a program where there is no sexual content and no foul language. While we can't protect our kids from every little thing, we can do our best to guard what seeps into their world via the media. I strongly urge you to make the rules governing nudity and cursing in the media stricter, not more lax. We owe it to our children and ourselves.
