

I believe your plan to remove decency standards is wrong. Television is already risky to watch as a family activity due to loose and very low decency standards, please do not lower them further. If you have to degenerate to this low standard please keep it in the hours when children are in bed.