

I would like to see decency restored on public television. Children see and hear way to much and are imprinted by the vehmenant way these terms are said. The same goes for body exposure. The sheer amount of explicity overwhelms the senses. de-sensitizes a person to the abhorrence of some acts of violence depectid on Television. This also includes the dismemberments or showing of desicrated body parts in shows likke Csi and bones. its disgusting and not for entertainment. Shows that feature the dysfunction of humans for entertainment is also debase. I would like to see this violence censored. Raise the bar to the standards of common decency again please. Get rid of the shock and awe of what the normal human mind cannot imagine, quit showing it all in its violence and indecent settings. I think creatures, such as zombies and werewolves and ghosts and drugs and such are indecent and should be regulated, because children and adults are being de-sensitized by it. Making crimes against humanity seem ok.
