

I would appreciate it if you would NOT change the decency policy or any other policies dealing with this topic. The television shows are bad enough as they are. I remember when television shows did not show nudity, there was no cussing and the shows had a lesson behind them. I wish we had those kinds of shows back or may be even some christian movies like Facing the Giants, Corageous and Left Behind. Again I urge not to change the policy on decency.