

You are totally wrong in lifting the ban on vulgar language, nudity and etc on major television network programs. Evidently you have no family values. You are going the wayas of the world where nothing is held back. Think of all the young children that watch major networks and the influence that will impact their lives. Evidently the FCC has become like the rest of part of our society and have no values left in their lives and families.

The major networks do not care about the American people. They are greedy and support the left wing of this nation. All of the failure of the moral conduct in America has begun ever so small in nature. The FCC must be the protector of moral activity on television by controlling the source of such broadcasting. The failure of morality in this country is a terrible disease. The FCC wil be contributing to that disease if the ban is lifted.

PLEASE DO NOT ALLOW THE LIFTING OF THE BAN ON BVULGARITY AND NUDITY ON TELEVISION BROADCASTGING.

Sincerely,

Herbert Cunningham
