

I do not believe that it would make for a better place or a better example to our children for the f-word or nudity to be displayed on national television and public radios. We have enough issues today in the upbringing of children and society that we do not need to add to it. By exposing children to such language and profanity does not teach them respect for themselves or for anyone else. I am voting to decline the f-word or nudity on regular television and radio stations.
