

The F-word and S-word and Nudity should NOT be allowed on regular TV during the hours that children may be watching. Save it for pay-per-view or after 10 PM!

I would like to think that regular TV is a sanctuary of good family entertainment. I see no need to introduce bad language or nudity into the shows. It will not improve the quality of the shows in any way.

And as a parent, I am trying to teach my children not to use bad language. As a mother of boys, I do not want them lusting over the female form any more than usual!

So please help me do my job as a good Christian mother by protecting my children and family from this unnecessary evil.

PS: I have already stopped watching SUITS on USA because of the bad language. I really liked the actors and the storyline of the show, but I don't feel the need to subject myself to all the bad language. It's like a weed, if you let one in your yard, pretty soon the whole yard is wasted. So if I allow myself to hear bad words, I will begin thinking them, then begin saying them. And what example will that be for my children?! What will that do to my character and reputation?! It wasn't worth it to me, so I stopped watching the show. (I miss it too, every time I see a commercial!)
