

I do not want my children exposed to immorality, nudity, and expletives more than they already are. I barely let my children watch TV now, because I think the current lack of morals in the media is outrageous. The media destroys the family unit, corrupts young minds with unrealistic expectations, and objectifies women. Please do not loosen the restrictions on TV networks. Allowing the "f" word and others, along with female nudity, does not enhance the viewing experience, teach anyone anything, and can never entertain anyone on a wholesome level. Please keep the restrictions as tight as they are. In fact, if I had my way, they would be stricter...
