

Thank you for your openness to the opinions and wishes of the American people. I respectfully request that you uphold the standards of decency that protect children and families from profanity and nudity on programming of the broadcast networks. It is such a disappointment to me that we would even be considering going in this direction.

Please consider choosing to maintain the high road and respect the wishes of the majority of families and the protection of children.

Thank you,
Christina Kenkel