

I am in favour of relaxing the standard, but only after establishing a watershed time, say 10.0pm after which the more relaxed content would be acceptable.

This system works well in other countries.