

It's nuts. I'm not bible banger but to wake up from falling asleep on my couch to screaming sex noises emanating from my TV is a complete invasion of privacy, morality, and everything else. I tried to block the adult channels and it's like an act of God to do it, they make it almost impossible. My kids should not be able to flip around the channels and see the title, "Big black dick, slams tight white pussy" or "Watch the MILF fuck my daddy" or "Cum on my big DD tities". Hasn't it gone to far? It's one thing to allow these movies to be made but to have them right in front of our eyes? You should be forced to OPT IN, not OPT OUT.
