

Gentlemen:

Isn't there enough gratuitous sex and nudity on TV already? We are constantly barraged with sexual images, etc. and even ads are like soft porn these days. I hope you will listen to the will of the people when we ask you not to open the door to even more of this intrusive and offensive programming. I don't have little kids at home but even I am not appreciative of the declining morals encouraged by television. Parents have a hard enough time in this world to teach their children modesty and decency without constantly having to field programming. Do the right thing.
