

Society is deteriorating before our very eyes! This constant erosion of Moral sense is what will define our society in the end. The notion that a person must strive to be "politically correct" because it's the "right thing to do" has subverted the "goodness" and all that is humanly decent. To relax the standards further would add to it's further decline. I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards, the FCC must continue to vigorously oppose ALL indecent content even if brief or "fleeting"! Thank You.
