

Allowing more nudity and profanity will have an adverse impact on our country's children. Since television has become the "babysitter" in many households, parents will have two choices: allow their children to be exposed to potential vulgarity and nudity or not allow them to watch any television unsupervised.