

I am adamantly against lowering standards of what is acceptable on tv or any other media. What we really need to is have standards raised.