

The rules for what could be put on our tv's is too lax now making it worse will only make me and my family choose other intertainment. Protecting families is what you were designed to do and that is what should be formost here.