

Do we no longer need to protect our children from filth? Why not just let them play in the garbage, with rotten material and dangerous objects around them? Are we to allow things on public airwaves that we expressly forbid in our homes? Do we let them decide what they want to see, hear, and say? That is irresponsible parenting, as is allowing them to see the rotten garbage being broadcast into our homes. But not only our children are affected. Believe it or not, there are adults who do not want this filth in their homes.

I oppose any changes to the current FCC indecency standards. The FCC must continue to vigorously oppose ALL indecent content, even if brief or "fleeting".

The Supreme Court has affirmed the FCC's authority to enforce policies prohibiting indecent broadcast content during hours when children are likely to be in the viewing or listening audience.

Relaxing the current policy would not serve the public interest and I urge the FCC to reject all proposals that would allow for the broadcast of expletives and nudity on FCC-licensed stations.
