

Myself and my 4 children have lived 18 years of devastation due to a porn addiction my husband has, his addiction has grown from a simple look to where by he had to physically act out his fantasy life. Walk out on his wife and children, with his money, to flurt and to pick up other women. He has had one 5 month affair, which left myself and my children broken hearted to the point we wanted to end our own lives. He comes back all the time on his knees begging for forgiveness and we believe him, only to be dumped again a month, 6 months or weeks later. I am so tired of pornography , it is everywhere , he doesn't have a chance to fight this addiction. It is a sad, sad state of affairs for men and their women and children, society has no hope. Except for some people who try and fight back like porn harms. Hooray for these poeple, they are our only hope. I would like to see Hollywood do a movie or tv show , about the devastation of porn. Awareness is the key , to fight this dark , dark DEMON, called PORN, LUST, FANTASY..... God says, it is better to gouge your eyes out than to fall into lust, it is wrong, GOD says so.
