

As an educator of America's youth, I urge you to enforce the protection of what children view in the media. I oppose any changes to the current decency enforcement standard of the Federal Communications Commission.