

Dear M'am/Sir:

I am very concerned about the upcoming hearing to reduce the enforcement of existing regulations against the airing of nudity and profanity (pornography) on television during hours that children may be viewing. It is very disconcerting to be told that the FCC has been lax in their enforcement of existing law when it comes to nudity and profanity. We need to strengthen the laws against this type of entertainment not weaken them. Congress is to oversee the welfare of this country and not continue to weaken the moral codes by which we live and are governed. Please do not weaken these laws any further and additionally insist on enforcement of existing law.

Sincerely,

Robin Matson
