

I oppose any and all changes to the FCC's current indecency policy. In addition, I am in favor of that policy being implemented without exception. I am against blurred nudity, expletives, swearing, the F word or any form of it. I am against seeing people of any sexual orientation having sex in any form. I believe these kinds of things are detrimental to families and particularly those with children of any age. There is enough indecency in Hollywood movies, but people can choose what they wish to see. The only choice with television is to TURN IT OFF, and that is what many concerned people are doing and will continue to do so if the current indecency policy is changed to allow smut in any form. The policy was implemented to protect people from such things that are deemed indecent. I urge the FCC to stop the "pushing of the envelope" that is so common now. Thank you for the opportunity to voice my opinion.
